

Construction Update for UO College of Education

October 26, 2007

Lease Crutcher Lewis is excited to be the General Contractor on the College of Education Project for the University of Oregon. Construction of the project began this past month with mobilization, project set-up, and temporary parking lot installation. Lewis has also been busy helping to prepare temporary facilities to accommodate the large number of staff and faculty relocations due to the upcoming Education Complex Renovations.

During the past month, much has changed on the site of the new Education Building. After perimeter fencing was installed and revised pedestrian routing and parking was established, erosion control measures were put in place to prepare for the site demolition and excavation of the new parking lot and building. This work included removal of the existing surface parking lots as well as removal of the tennis courts. Mass Excavation of the Building Footprint has been substantially completed and footing excavation is just getting under way.

In the coming weeks, footing excavation will continue along with the start of underground plumbing installation. We will also be beginning to pour concrete for the building footings.

Please note that next Friday, November 2nd, Lewis will be coordinating the delivery and setup of two new temporary office trailers to house additional faculty/staff relocations. This will impact the temporary parking lot (the bandfield to the North of Knight Library) all day on Friday, with many spots temporarily taken to accommodate this activity.

The Lease Crutcher Lewis staff and crew would like to thank all of the University staff, faculty and students for their understanding and personal interest in this project. Your support and patience in regards to the on-going construction work occurring on your campus is invaluable. We would like to establish relationships via open lines of communication, so if there are any questions, comments or concerns, please feel free to contact us.

Sincerely,
Lease Crutcher Lewis
